St. Mary Pupils Load Relief Food Gifts

Shown above is a part of the 19,526 pounds of foods shipped to the destitute and starving peoples of war-torn countries of Europe, which was purchased recently with voluntary funds contributed by members of St. Mary Catholic parish and the pupils of the parochial high and grade school. The food was purchased and loaded at a local wholesale house recently. Assisting in the loading were five students of the high school. They are left to right: Dan Smith, William Merchant, Billy Wagner, Dick Schuler and Tom Wagner. The food was donated as a part of the national campaign conducted under the auspices of the arch-diocese and the Diocese of the United States in cooperation with War Relief Services of the National Welfare Conference.

U. S. Political Scene Stirred to High Pitch By Wallace Candidacy

"Peace, Prosperity" Named by Him As His Slogan.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 30—Henry A. Wallace says "I shall run as an independent candidate for president of the United States in 1948."

He announced he will campaign on a platform advocating "peace and prosperity" and said both Democrats and Republicans "stand for a policy which opens the door to war in our lifetime, and makes war certain for our children."

Asked if he hoped to be elected as an independent, Wallace replied "there's always hope."

Wallace made his announcement in a nationwide radio address last night. A former Democratic vice president and former cabinet officer under two Democratic presidents, Wallace thus bolted the Democratic party which he had joined despite the background of a staunch Republican family.

He also ended speculation about his political plans — speculation that had been started when he resigned as secretary of commerce at the request of President Truman. The resignation followed Wallace's opposition to Secretary of State James F. Byrne's policy of a firm hand in dealings with Russia.

Quits Editorial Post

At the same time, Wallace announced he had resigned as editor of the New Republic, a weekly publication, but said he will continue as a contributing editor and will write a weekly page for the magazine. He became editor of the New Republic after resigning from the cabinet.

Wallace's announcement brought a statement from Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D-Idaho) that he is considering the possibility of running for vice president on a ticket headed by Wallace.

The former vice president, who was elected with President Roosevelt in 1940 and then dropped in favor of Harry Truman in 1944, said "thousands of people" had asked him to "engage in this great fight".

The Progressive Citizens of America and the new Progressive party of Chicago had suggested Wallace enter the race. In addition, a Wallace spokesman said persons from 18 states and the District of Columbia had made a similar request yesterday. The decision of the PCA to endorse Wallace last week caused resignation of two of the organization's top officers.

Comments by Leaders

The announcement brought immediate response from political leaders in the United States and Great Britain.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said he regrets Wallace "cannot be fighting the liberal battle — and for prosperity and peace—inside the Democratic party."

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said Wallace's campaign "will have a considerable adverse effect on the Democratic party not Jeers, Fears, Cheers Greet 3rd Party Entry.

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Reporter

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30—Henry A. Wallace catapulted foreign policy into the presidential campaign today by embarking on the first serious third party effort since 1924 amid Democratic jeers and fears and Republican cheers.

Wallace's announcement that he will run for president as an Independent candidate next year propelled American relations with Russia into the race as an issue.

It apparently shook the political structure of the party he served as vice president and possibly reshaped the die from which the Republican nominee will emerge.

Politicians are almost unanimous in their judgment that Wallace has an even smaller chance of election than the late Robert M. LaFollette Sr., who carried only his home state of Wisconsin under the Progressive banner in 1924. LaFollette polled 4,822,000 votes, more than many observers think Wallace will get despite a vast increase in the electorate.

Calls for Answer

But the same politicians agree that Wallace's attack in his Chicago radio speech last night on what he called the "bipartisan reactionary war policy" will require answering by the two major party candidates during the campaign.

Despite public statements discounting the effect of Wallace's move, there was ample evidence the Democrats fear its possible effect in such key states as New York, California, Washington, Illinois and Michigan.

Senator Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Republican conference, named those particular areas in declaring that Democratic hopes for 1948 had suffered "a major blow."

A prominent Democratic official who asked not to be quoted by name, apparently has the same idea as Millikin. He told a reporter: "Last night was blue Monday for the Democratic party."

In Los Angeles, James Roosevelt, son of the late president and chairman of the California Democratic committee, said the Wallace move will "bring closer to reality the dangers in a return to power of the Republican party."

Says Truman Is Target

But Senator McCarran (D-Nev) said that Wallace, who was booted out of the cabinet by President Truman last year for his criticism of the administration policy toward Russia, is intent on "venting his spleen on the President" and added:

"His candidacy will form a resting place for the votes of all communistically inclined people. He will create an expression of accord with Russia. I think there is nothing to worry about."

In New York, Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY) said he considered Wallace's announcement "the

NEW REGIME PROCLAIMED

Quitting "In the Interest of the People," Says Young Ex-Ruler.

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, ROMANIA, Dec. 30—King Mihai I., abdicated today and the Communist- dominated cabinet immediately declared Romania a "popular democratic republic."

In a broadcast proclamation, King Mihai said he had abdicated in the interest of the people.

He said the present changes in Romania had made an alteration in the constitution necessary, and he would not stand in the way of the people, who must be free to choose their own form of government. He abdicated at 3 p. m.

Proclamation Issued

A proclamation to the people, signed by all cabinet ministers, declared Romania a "popular democratic republic."

Parliament is now sitting for ratification of these acts.

The 26-year-old monarch returned only recently from a trip to London and Switzerland amid reports that he was seeking government permission to marry Danish Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma.

Mihai attended the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Prince Philip in London Nov. 20.

It was reported, without confirmation, that Mihai left at 5 p. m. for an undisclosed destination. His father, Carol II., twice renounced the Romanian throne.

Mihai twice ascended the throne of Romania—the first time when he was only six years old. He became king when upon the abdication of his father, Carol re-

Marion Woman In Mishap; Mother, Daughter Killed

A Morrow county mother and daughter and a Marion woman are dead and three other persons are in City hospital as a result of traffic accidents in Caledonia and near Marion yesterday and this morning.

Dead are Mrs. Clarence Young, 36, of near Edison and her daughter Mary Louise, 10, and Mrs. James Lingo, 53, of 317 South Vine street.

Mrs. Young and her daughter were killed yesterday afternoon when the milk delivery truck the mother was driving was struck by a New York Central passenger train at the Water street crossing in Caledonia. Mrs. Lingo was killed shortly after 8 a. m. today when the auto in which she was riding skidded on sleet-coated pavement into the path of a Columbus car near the Marion county children's home.

Injured in the latter accident and now in Marion City hospital are James Lingo, 67, husband of the dead woman and driver of the car, and Mrs. Alberta Nash, 58, of 679 North State street, a passenger in the Lingo car, and Gayle Hatfield, 30, of Columbus.

The Lingos and Mrs. Nash were enroute to Columbus, called there by the death yesterday of Mrs. Lingo's brother, Reuben Daugherty, 65.

Mother and Daughter Killed at Caledonia

Mrs. Frances Young, 36, of near Edison, in Morrow county, and her daughter, Mary Louise, 10, were killed instantly shortly after noon yesterday when the panel milk truck Mrs. Young was driving was struck by a westbound New York Central passenger train at the Water street crossing in Caledonia.

Mrs. Young and her daughter had just made a stop to deliver milk on Water street and had started across the Big Four tracks when hit by the flyer.

The demolished milk truck was carried about one mile west along the railroad.

Warning lights at the railroad crossing were flashing at the time of the accident, the state highway patrol reported.

Mrs. Young and her husband, Clarence Young who works at the Marion Metal Products Co., operate the Shaw Creek Valley dairy near Denmark. Mrs. Young also delivered pasteurized milk from the Ideal Dairy Co. in Marion for several of her customers in Caledonia, Denmark, and Edison.

For about a month, she had been picking up raw milk from several farmers near her home two miles east of Denmark and delivering it to the Ideal Dairy for processing, then taking pasteurized milk in exchange for delivery along her route.

Daughter On Vacation

On the morning of the accident, her daughter, on a holiday vacation from Edison school, accompanied her, as she sometimes did on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Sometimes one of her three other school-age daughters, Virginia, Wanda, or Patricia, accompanied her on her extensive milk route. She delivered some 16 dozen quarts of milk a day.

Her husband, Clarence, was called from work at the Cheney avenue plant of the Marion Metal Products Co. by neighbors after the tragedy.

Due to the fact that the accident occurred as The Star was going to press yesterday details of the accident could not be checked and it was erroneously reported in the city edition that Robert Young and his 11-year-old daughter were killed.

Three Other Daughters

Besides her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Young is survived by her mother, Mrs. William Gregory of 156 Park boulevard, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Lulu Kronk of Jackson, O., and Mrs. Mildred Caldwell of West Center street.

The former Frances Lillian Gregory, she was born May 2, 1911, in Scioto county to William Gregory and Jenny Bonzo Gregory She married Mr. Young in Columbus Oct. 8, 1930. She was a member of the Denmark Grange.

Her daughter, Mary Louise, was born April 10, 1937. She was a member of the Denmark Methodist church and a fifth grade pupil at Edison.

The double funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Denmark Methodist church with the Rev. Orland Ruby officiating.

Friends may call at the Timson Allen funeral home in Caledonia after 6 p. m. tonight and until noon Thursday.

Burial will be made in Claridon cemetery.

Mrs. Lingo Killed As Car Skids on Ice

Freak icing conditions on route 23 about three miles south of Marion this morning resulted in a traffic accident in which a Marion woman was killed and three other persons hospitalized.

Mrs. James Lingo, 53, of 317 South Vine street, was dead upon arrival at City hospital in the Hughes ambulance after the car in which she was riding with her husband and another passenger skidded into a second car about a quarter of a mile south of the county children's home shortly after 8 a. m.

Hospitalized are her husband, James Lingo 67, city mail carrier, Mrs. Alberta Nash, 58, of 679 North State street, a sister of Mrs. Lingo, and Gayle Hatfield, 30, of Columbus, driver of the second car.

Sleet-Covered Road

The state highway patrol reported a section of the highway about a mile in length in the vicinity south of the children's home was coated with a thin layer of ice. Pavement was reported dry in the vicinity of Marion and further south toward Delaware.

The Lingos were bound for Columbus, called there by the death of Reuben Daugherty, a brother of Mrs. Lingo and Mrs. Nash. He was found dead with a gunshot wound in his head, in his room yesterday afternoon, according to a report of the Columbus police. Dr. Mitchell A. Spyker, coroner, ordered the body taken to University hospital for an autopsy.

Loses Control of Car

Unaware that the highway had become slippery, Mr. Lingo was reported by the state highway patrol to have lost control of his car which slewed into the path of the Hatfield car traveling north.

A third car approaching the crash scene a few moments later skidded into the ditch trying to avoid the wreck. The driver, Robert Hill of near Fostoria, traveling alone, escaped injury.

The state highway patrol and three ambulances, Hughes, Axe and Schaffner-Denzer, reached the scene shortly after 8:15. Mrs. Lingo, pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital, suffered a broken neck and fractured skull. Her husband suffered a broken jaw and abrasions and Mrs. Nash, a dislocated right hip and fracture of the left leg. Hatfield was treated for lacerations and abrasions with X-ray pictures to be taken to determine further injuries.

Mrs. Lingo was the mother of Harold E. Thomas, a Navy veteran of World War II, who was captured by the Japanese in the fall of Corregidor.

Thomas, who had the rank of B.M. 2-C, spent 40 months as a Jap prisoner after his outfit stationed on "The Rock" capitulated after the fall of Bataan. Much of his time as a prisoner was spent in a prison camp near Osaki, in Japan.

Born Near Columbus

Mrs. Lingo was born June 24, 1894, near Columbus, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Daugherty. Her marriage to Mr. Lingo took place in Marion in 1929.

She was a member of Epworth Methodist church, Sosnowski Rebekah lodge, Rebekah Friendship circle and Auxiliary No. 41 to the Marion Branch of the Letter Carriers association.

Surviving with the husband are two children by a former marriage, Mrs. Jack Parrell of 98 Woodrow avenue, Columbus, and Harold E. Thomas of Unit No. 2,

LIMIT GRAIN FOR LIQUOR

Sec. Anderson Issues Order Under Authority of New Anti-Inflation Law.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today put whiskey makers on grain rationing in order to save grain for food.

Acting under authority of the newly-signed anti-inflation act the secretary limited grain use by distillers to 2,450,000 bushels between now and Jan. 31, 1948.

This quantity compares with an average use of about 5,000,000 bushels a month during the first ten months of this year.

The industry completed a voluntary 60-day production holiday Dec. 24 in connection with the food conservation campaign inaugurated by the government early in the fall.

Reestablishment of controls in use during the war followed failure of the industry and the government to get together on a voluntary program of restricted use of grain after explanation of the holiday.

The order is effective at midnight tonight.

Each distilling plant will get a ration of grain. This will be 21 per cent of its average monthly use of grain during the four months from December, 1946 through March, 1947, plus 1.4 times its daily mashing capacity.

Anderson prohibited the use of wheat under the grain allocation.

GAS RESTORED TO OHIO INDUSTRIES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30—Restoration of full service to industrial consumers was announced today by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., but a Pittsburgh utility serving part of Ohio lifted only part of its curtailment.

Both firms cut off supplies to industries Sunday night to save fuel for residential users in the face of a forecasted cold wave.

"The cold wave wasn't as bad as we expected, so we notified industrial consumers that supplies would be back to normal by midnight last night," an Ohio Fuel Gas spokesman said.

The manufacturers Light & Heat Co. of Pittsburgh restored 50 per cent of normal service to 150 industries in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Service Resumed In Marion Industries

Full gas service was restored to industrial consumers in Marion at midnight last night, C. E. Sechrist, local manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., announced today. Service had been curtailed 90 per cent two days ago because of the anticipated cold wave. The ban on the use of gas had affected several large plants in Marion, forcing the use of standby equipment supplying other fuels.

First Six Babies Born in New Year Will Win Prizes

As has been the custom in the past, a New Year's baby contest will be held again this year in Marion, sponsored by the merchants of the city.

Gifts will be presented to the first six babies born in the New Year, 1948, whose parents are residents of the city of Marion. The first baby to be born will be awarded the largest number of gifts, and the other five, in the order of their birth, will be the other recipients of the gifts.

Rules in the contest specify that parents of the babies must be residents of the city of Marion in order to be eligible for the contest. In case of tie, prizes will be divided.

Before receiving their gifts, parents must present to The Star a statement of the attending physician telling the exact time of birth. A letter from The Star to the parents will constitute the authority for the receipt of gifts.

Names of the new born infants will be announced in The Star.

SAYS WALDO DIKE PLANS UNCHANGED

Engineer Declares Earthen Levee Will Be Built.

By The Associated Press

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Dec. 30—Lieut. Col. John R. Sharp, executive officer of the Huntington district corps of engineers, said today there had been no change in plans to build an earthen levee about the Marion county village of Waldo as part of the Delaware dam project.

It had been reported in Columbus, O., that as a result of test borings, said to have shown gravel under the village, the dike project would have to be abandoned. Sharp said the report was false.

He reported plans to advertise for bids on the dike project had been delayed by "the Christmas holidays and the pressure of other work in this office," but said they would be asked "sometime during the week of Jan. 12." The bids were to have been advertised yesterday.

Sharp said extensive test borings at Waldo confirmed that the dike could be built.

Salesman Finds His Stock Is Incomplete

FREMONT, O., Dec. 30—His job of selling fire extinguishers may be a bit embarrassing during the next few days for Martin Kruez of neighboring Gibsonburg.

Kruez's car, loaded with his wares, caught fire when he stopped for a traffic light here yesterday; and none of his supply of extinguishers was of the type he needed.

City firemen finally doused the blaze, which started from alcohol that overflowed from the radiator.

OHIO HIGHWAY HEAD RESIGNS

Shaffer Accepts Position with Springfield Road Roller Company.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 30—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert announced today the resignation of Murray D. Shaffer of Mansfield as state highway director, effective Jan. 31.

Governor Herbert, who said he was accepting the resignation "with deep regret," said Shaffer had accepted the position of director of sales and research consultant for the Buffalo-Springfield Roller Co. of Springfield, the largest road roller manufacturer in the world.

No successor will be appointed until late in January, the governor said.

"It was a very difficult decision to make and I made it only because I feel it will be to my advantage over a period of years," Shaffer said.

Shaffer formerly was service director for the city of Mansfield and joined the highway department as division engineer at Ashland in January, 1939.

He came to Columbus in 1940 as chief engineer of the bureau of location and design for the highway department serving until 1945. He then served a year as engineering director of the macadam pavement association before being named highway director.

Shaffer declined to disclose the salary of his new position but indicated that it was more than the $8,600 he now receives. He said he expected a new director to be appointed before his resignation becomes effective.

The resignation was the third in the governor's cabinet in the first year of his administration. The others were Dr. Roger E. Heering, who resigned as health director, and Stanley B. Cofall of Cleveland, former liquor director.

There are 237,000 rental units in the area.

"Mechanical Midget" Controls Airplane, Even During Stunts

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30—A mechanical pilot that will maintain control of a plane through loop-the-loops, barrel rolls, or great bursts of speed has been developed by the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Unlike other automatic pilots, Westinghouse said, the new "mechanical midget" is unaffected by rapid maneuvers or high rates of acceleration.

A first-cousin of the gyroscopic stabilizers developed by Westinghouse during the war for tank guns and airplane gun turrets, the midget pilot weighs only 25 pounds.

Dr. Clinton R. Hanna, associate director of the Westinghouse Research Laboratories, yesterday revealed the new autopilot already has been put through more than 3,000 miles of banks, turns, dives and level flight while the human pilot and company engineers "sat by" as observers.

Describing the instrument as "the speediest and most sensitive ever developed," Dr. Hanna declared:

This unit is about half the size of most automatic pilot devices. It reacts to the human pilot's signals, or to unwanted motions of the plane, in one-tenth of a second, then flashes its message to the control mechanism even while such motion is just beginning to take effect.

"Even the biggest plane can be put through its paces by the twist of a knob or a small control box within easy reach of the pilot. To dive or climb, he merely moves the knob in or out; for turns, it is rotated right or left. In level flight, the pilot can sit back and relax while the plane flies itself."

Source of the instrument's mechanical composure is a compact metal case—not much larger than a box camera—containing three spinning gyroscopes.

Although still in the experimental stage, the midget pilot is expected to be applicable to light commercial and private planes and, if radio-controlled, could be used to direct the flight of guided missiles and pilotless aircraft, Dr. Hanna said.

36 JEWS, 11 ARABS KILLED IN BATTLE

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Dec. 30 — The bitterest rioting since the United Nations decided to partition Palestine erupted today in the Consolidated refinery at Haifa, where 36 Jews and 11 Arabs were killed.

Bloody fighting among some 1,800 Arabs and 400 Jews followed the bombing of a line of 100 Arabs before the employment office. At last 14 Jews and 47 Arabs were wounded.

Most of the Arabs apparently were killed by the bomb, which shattered two days of quiet in the port city and set off reprisal attacks by Arabs on Jewish workers in the large refinery on the northern outskirts of Haifa.

Arabs, irked by Jewish punitive raids for three successive days, took the initiative in earlier communal rioting in Palestine today as the bloody strife, which broke out after the United Nations decision to partition Palestine, entered its second month.

Arab machinegunners raked a Jewish bus half way up Mt. Scopus on the outskirts of Jerusalem, wounding 14 Jews—two of them seriously. Police said the bus was loaded with nurses and other Hadassah hospital employes enroute to work.

WALLACE

only in California but also in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and possibly one or two other states."

Senator Capper (R-Kans.) predicted Wallace will be "a weak third man in the race." Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said Wallace "goes into this knowing full well he has no chance whatsoever except perhaps to vent his spleen against President Truman."

Englishman's View

In England, Richard H. S. Crossman, newspaperman and Laborite member of parliament who talked extensively with Wallace during the American's visit there last spring, said "My very first thought is that Mr. Wallace's action increased the chances of a Republican victory in the next election." Government leaders in England withheld comment on "an affair of internal American politics."

At a news conference following his broadcast, Wallace said he would withdraw from the presidential race "should either of the major parties become definitely a peace party before the election." He also said the new party, as yet unnamed, "would support progressive Democratic candidates for congress." He said it was "too early to say" about choice of a running mate.

Announcing his decision to leave the Democratic party, Wallace said in his address::

"To those who have come to me asking the conditions of my adherence to the present Democratic administration, I have said 'Let the administration repudiate universal military training and rid itself of the Wall Street-military team that is leading us toward war.'

"My terms to the Democratic high command have been well known. By their actions and finally by their words, they have said Henry Wallace, we welcome your support but we will not change our policies."

Views on Foreign Affairs

On foreign affairs—the issue which caused his departure from President Truman's cabinet—he said:

"I fight the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan as applied because they divide Europe into two warring camps. Those whom we buy politically with our food will soon desert us. * * *

"We are restoring western Europe and Germany * * * because we want to hem Russia in. We are acting in the same way as France and England after the last war, and the end result will be the same—confusion, depression and war.

"It just doesn't need to happen. The cost of organizing for peace, prosperity and progress is infinitely less than organizing for war.

"We who believe this will be called 'Russian tools' and 'Communists'. Let the fear mongers not distort and becloud the issue by name-calling.

"We are not for Russia and we are not for Communism but we recognize Hitlerite methods when we see them in our own land and we denounce the men who engage in such name-calling as enemies of a human race who would rather have World War Three than put forth a genuine effort to bring about a settlement of differences. * * *

"I insist that the United States will not be fully secure until there is real peace between this country and Russia and until there is an international police force stronger than the military establishment of any nation, including Russia and the United States."

Of prices on the home front, he said:

"The American people read of the fantastic appropriations that are being made for military adventures in Greece, Turkey, China—and billions for armaments here at home. Slowly it dawns on us that these newspaper headlines have stepped into our everyday lives at the grocery where we pay $1 for butter, 95 cents for eggs and 90 cents for meat.

"We suddenly realize that we can't have all the people of the world getting ready for the next war without paying for it in our daily lives with less food, clothing and housing."

Previous Third Parties

Third parties in America have been notably unsuccessful in gaining election of their own candidates although they have, on occasion, swung presidential elections.

In 1884, the "Mugwumps," comprised of disaffected Republicans, took enough votes away from Republican candidate James G. Blaine in New York to swing that state to Democrat Grover Cleveland, assuring Cleveland's election. In 1912, Theodore Roosevelt bolted the Republican party. In the election the total votes given Roosevelt and Republican candidate William H. Taft were more than those for Woodrow Wilson, but Wilson was elected because of the split.

Speech Set Tonight

Wallace will make his first speech as an avowed candidate tonight at 9 o'clock at a rally sponsored by his supporters in Milwaukee, Wis. Ticket sales were reported to be booming.

Wallace Spot on Ohio Ballot in Doubt

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 30—Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel may ask for an official ruling today on whether Henry A. Wallace or any other "third party" presidential candidate could get on the Ohio ballot after the state's revised election code becomes effective Friday.

Hummel refused official comment, but another election official, requesting anonymity, said Hummel "can't help but ask for an attorney general's ruling on independent candidates for president."

The election official said he believed only Republican and Democratic candidates for President will be allowed on the ballot under the revised law, although independent local, county and district candidates stil can be placed on the ballot.

"But frankly," the official added, "thet legislature has amended the section covering this point so much that I can't be sure of anything."

Railway passenger miles in the United States reached a peak of 42,676,579,199 in 1918 and a low of 16,340,509,724 in 1933 but rose to a new peak of 95,549,090,472 in 1944 under wartime pressure.

Textile Prices and Production High at Start of New Year

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—The textile industry will start the New Year with prices moving up another notch, production high, and improving supplies of most types of desired goods.

Most noticeable factor to the consumer will be higher prices for almost all textile items again in the spring.

Men's clothing generally will be up 8 to 10 per cent over last fall at the wholesale level; retail shirt prices are scheduled to go up as much as 50 cents a shirt; sheets are in for a boost estimated at about 6 per cent, and women's dresses will cost more.

There are some who look warily at the consumer's pocketbook and declare that textile prices are "dangerously high." Others say buyers are less hesitant about ordering goods at increased prices now than they were a few months ago. They expect business to continue at a high level at least for the first half of 1948.

Stocks To Increase

In cotton goods increasing quantities of wanted fabrics are said to be on the way. And continued high production points to more liberal supplies of dresses, shirts, sheets, pillowcases, work clothing and other basic items.

John M. Reeves, president of Reeves Brothers, Inc., cotton textile manufacturers, said an increase in production during the first half of 1947 in the face of a decline of actual cotton consumption indicated a decided shift to lighter weight fabrics.

Dr. Claudius T. Murchison, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, said mills have been shifting constantly in recent months to production of such items as print cloths, sheetings, combed lawns, broadcloths and similar goods.

"Since V-J day the trend has been toward a resumption of the prewar pattern of production, and it is likely that this goal will be achieved shortly," he added.

Operations Near Peak

Murchison stated that the industry 'enters the New Year with mills operating at close to peak levels and with backlogs of orders sufficient to support the current rate of operations at least for the first half of 1948.

"Production during the first three quarters of 1947 amounted to 7,228,947,000 yards compared with 6,756,144,000 yards in the first nine months of 1946," he said. "There is nothing in sight to indicate any falling off from 1947 levels."

He said indications are that cotton goods prices will "remain strong."

The national federation of textiles summed up the synthetic fabric situation during the past year by saying: "The supply and demand continued to present a picture of reported shortages contradicting all-time high production records."

Synthetic yarn fabric production broke all records during the past year, the federation reported, with quarterly average production (based on three quarters) of about 458,000,000 yards of rayon, nylon silk and similar fabrics. This compared with 453,400,000 quarterly in 1946 and 352,500,000 before the war.

Change Production Pattern

With filament yarn goods in particular demand, the federation said the industry changed its production pattern to meet the demand and boosted output of that type of goods to a quarterly average of 296,300,000 yards from 262,200,000 in 1946.

At the same time output of miscellaneous mixtures and blends which had been produced during the war to spread available yarn as far as possible, dropped to 31,200,000 yards in the third quarter of 1947 compared with a record high quarterly average of 73,200,000 in 1946.

Industry sources said approximately 25,000,000 yards of 100 per cent nylon fabric were made in 1947 compared with 21,500,000 in the preceding year.

U.S. FOOD BILL STILL RISING

Dealers Predict Figures as High in 1948, or Higher.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—America's food bill is still going up. Food dealers and processors predict prices in 1948 on most food items will be as high as now, or higher.

They anticipate 1948 food store sales will top 1947's estimated $28 billion, which soared $4 billion over 1946 and compares with $10 billion in 1939.

The food industry expects supplies to be adequate, with perhaps temporary shortages in some brands or products, but always "enough food for a nutritious diet."

Next Year's Outlook

Specifically, the food picture for 1948, as outlined by Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., shows:

A meat supply of 146 pounds a person, 10 pounds less than in 1947, but 20 more than the 1935-39 average—however, meat will cost even more than in 1947, the year of the dollar and higher steak.

Less milk in the first part of 1948, but with prices fluctuating less and touching neither the 1947 lows nor highs.

More cooking fats and oils (9.9 billion pounds, against 9.6 billion pounds in 1947), but increasing exports will keep prices high.

High prices for everything deriving from grain—bread, cereals, meat, poultry and eggs.

More sugar than the 95 pounds each person had, direct or in processed foods, in 1947—but increased supplies will keep the price either stable or a little lower.

Twenty pounds of canned fruit a person, against 15 in 1947; and 45 pounds of canned vegetables, against 31.

Sixteen pounds of canned fruit juices, compared with 4 pounds a person before the war; 6 pounds of dried fruits, against 5.7.

Prices of most canned goods as low, or lower than in 1947.

Considerable more prepared puddings, cake mixes, gellatin and other desserts, with prices at current levels.

Industry's Difficult Job

Willis says, "It is going to be a real task for the industry to hold down prices in the face of increased costs of labor, freight, tin and other production materials and services."

Freight car shortages continue to hamper food movements, Willis says, and the demand for cars "worked to prevent proper cleaning before loading so that 1947 was the worst year in a long time for serious loss of food through product infestation."

The beer can will probably disappear for awhile, due to tin and sheet steel shortages, C. R. Havighorst, associate editor of Food Industries Magazine, predicts.

The frozen food industry should experience new production gains, he adds.

The year will open with "meatless Tuesdays" and "eggless Thursdays" still on the docket, but "poultryless Thursdays" fizzled quickly.

The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index shows the food component (eggs, sugar, cocoa, coffee, flour, lard, and butter) at the year's high as 1947 ends. Prices advanced in February, slumped in mid-March, hit the year's low of 133.39 May 16, started up in June, were back to the March level in early September, and hit new highs in October, November and December to close at 164.82.

Livestock Record

The livestock component (hogs, cattle, and lamb) hit its peak of 255.30 Dec. 26, compared with the year's low of 192.10 April 18. An early fall slump was halted in late October and prices climbed back up again.

Farm products end the year at or near their highest. The agricultural component of the AP index (which includes cotton as well as corn, wheat, oats, rye) hit the year's high in mid-December, touching 253.91, compared with the low of 178.01 Jan. 24. The peaks were in March, June, mid-September, mid-October, last of November and Dec. 12.

In spite of high prices, some shortages and conservation campaigns, Americans ate more and better in 1947 than ever before. With national income expected to be as high or higher in 1948, they seem set to set still another record around the dinner table.

EXPECT TO AVERT STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30—A new wage offer probably will avert a threatened strike scheduled for tomorrow night by AFL service employes against the city's largest hotels, William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, said today. Finegan reported the hotels had made a new wage offer to union representatives of 600 maids, porters, elevator operators and maintenance personnel and that the offer would be presented to the membership today. The proposal was not announced.

Animal Extracts Useful in Fight on Cancer

Much has been written about the dangers of cancer and most all of it is true. Nonetheless, because they have been warned so many times regarding this truly dread disease, many people have the idea that it is far more hopeless than it actually is. Today, as a matter of fact, the outlook is better than ever before, and the great amount of research now going on gives promise that before too long even medical cure of cancer may be possible.

Cancer cells develop from normal cells but they do not act like normal cells. They grow far more rapidly and in the process break all the rules of tissue growth. Just what starts these outlaw cells off on their wild career is not yet known. It is thought, however, that certain yet undiscovered changes in cell chemistry may be responsible.

Being different from the normal tissue cells, cancer cells can possibly be destroyed by substances which will not injure normal tissues. Then, too, extracts from the various glands of internal secretion may, perhaps, prove useful in checking cancerous growths.

Just recently, a report was made by Drs. Joseph C. Amersbach of New York, and Leo G. Nutini, of Cincinnati, concerning the use of extracts made from animal organs in treating skin cancers. Thirty-three of 48 cancers regressed completely, that is, they disappeared, and all but two of fifteen others showed improvement, although the course of treatment was not yet completed The extract used was made from beef spleen and lamb liver. Most of the cases were a simple form of skin cancer, known as basal cell epithelioma.

Tests have also been made recently using what is known as KR vaccine, made from germs known as Trypanosoma cruzi but, up to the present, experimental work has been carried out only in animals. In all the animals treated, cancer growths were checked and, in some, the tumor disappeared.

Large amounts of this vaccine are now available for experimental study, and it is being tried in human beings.

While these newer methods are being tested and developed, we still must rely on known methods for treating cancer. This means early diagnosis and immediate surgical removal of the growth. X-ray and radium treatments are helpful in many types of cancer.

If we would apply more universally the knowledge of cancer we already have, it has been estimated that at least fifty per cent of all cancer victims could be saved.

Answer: As a general rule, wax can be removed from the ear by softening it with peroxide or some type of oil, and then washing it out with a syringe and warm water. It is usually necessary to have a doctor wash it out.

Call It a Standoff

MR. TRUMAN, who couldn't wait to get rid of allocations, price controls and the other headaches of wartime responsibility for business, has scorched the Republicans in a blistering statement for not giving them back to him.

If further proof were needed that inflation is going to be a prime political issue in 1948, the President's statement accompanying his acceptance of the Republican "anti-inflation" bill is it.

Inflation has been a prime political issue since the 1946 elections; million of voters showed resentment by voting against the party in power that year in a last-minute effort to save the day. Mr. Truman tried to create the illusion that the war boom could be made to last forever in terms of wages, with no corresponding increases in prices and without bothersome controls. The illusion wasn't created.

The Republican majority in congress has tried, in turn, to create the illusion that inflation can be routed with good resolution. That has led Mr. Truman to state his campaign proposition—that inflation can be routed if he is given certain dictatorial powers. In view of the fact that everybody's wrong, it can be called a standoff.

Inflation will turn into deflation when a population with the greatest amount of spending money in history finally begins to think once more about the value of a dollar. Whereupon deflation will become a prime political issue, just as inflation is now.

First of the Appeasers

ITALY'S "little king," Victor Emmanuel III is dead at 78, monarch of nothing he surveyed—one of history's tragic examples of a ruler who betrayed his trust. Until 1922, he showed great promise.

The challenge that toppled him was the Fascist march on Rome, led by Mussolini. Victor Emmanuel, like many who were to follow him in dealing with the Mussolinis of this generation, chose the easy way out. He turned over the government to a usurper. He was the first of the appeasers, that sad assortment of dupes who tried to buy security with dishonor.

He formally abdicated a throne he had destroyed in 1946 and trudged into exile. His tomb should bear this inscription:

He could have been a king—
He gambled on Mussolini, instead.

Tojo's Defense

HIDEKI TOJO'S war-crimes trial claim that he led Japan in a war of defense isn't the historic absurdity it seems to be at first glance.

Japan's aim throughout the 20th century, up to Pearl Harbor, was to narrow the gap between it and the two more powerful naval powers, the United States and Great Britain. A generation of Japanese grew up in a tradition of living down their nation's inferiority, a powerful psychological influence, that robbed them of reason.

Second, circumstantial evidence made it appear that the United States was preparing to go to war with Japan. U.S. preparation in the Pacific before Pearl Harbor looked to the Japanese like preparations for attack. Americans knew they were preparations for defense, of course, and thought that Japan was preparing for attack—the same misunderstanding of motive, in reverse.

It can be granted that Tojo honestly believes Japan launched a war of defense by striking the first blow at Pearl Harbor without changing any opinions about the guilt of the ignorant men who gave war orders, Hitler, too, believed he was fighting a defensive war. The men in the Kremlin apparently hold the same idea today about Russian preparations for a war that can't happen unless they, in their vast ignorance of the world they live in, believe Russia is about to be attacked. Ignorance is no defense in a trial to determine war guilt.

The Practical View

DISTURBED by a $24,000,000 decline in race-track betting revenues, New York State is having a closer look at the subject of off-course betting. Two New York City grand juries have recommended it and the movement has progressed far enough to have a headquarters and letterhead stationery.

The idea would be to have a legalized bookie joint in every neighborhood so mother, on her way to the supermarket, could stop in and get down a $2 bet, and dad, on his way home from work, could tarry to see how Rytina fared in the fifth at Jamaica.

The plan is vigorously opposed by racetrack operators, and not primarily because it would take business away from them and give it to the man who had the funds to open a licensed hole in the wall. The operators know that if betting paraphernalia is brought out of the back room into the open it will be only a matter of time until a vast new public is shorn of funds it can't afford to lose. They know that will bring on a reaction that will shut up the tracks as well as the legalized bookie parlors. That's the reason the dealers don't want the kibitzers to break open a cold deck on the next table.

The Case of Finland

By George E. Sokolsky

U. S. Senators' Fascinating but Inconsistent Gesture.

SENATORS SMITH, Fulbright, Saltonstall, Bricker, Knowland, Hatch, Lodge, Thomas of Utah, O'Mahoney and Hill joined in a fascinating gesture toward Finland, the only country that paid its debts to the United States, come hell and high water.

Senator Alexander Smith said:

"Since that time, twenty-eight years ago, when other nations, great and small, rich and poor, have defaulted on their debt payments, the heroic people of little Finland have repeatedly demonstrated that they place intergrity above comfort or convenience. They have made payments on their indebtedness to the United States as those payments fell due."

SOKOLSKY

So the senator and his colleagues make a proposal to use the money that Finland pays on the debt, from now on, to educate Finnish boys and girls in this country for usefulness to their own. Senator Smith comments on this idea:

". . . Circumstances, of course, make it impossible for Finland to send them here in any large numbers, and of course obviously the suggestion is impractical. But there is something we can do to aid them in their grim struggle against disease, destruction and want. We can extend to them the hand of friendship in their desperate need by offering to help them train a new generation of technical experts to replace their war-lost generation. On the basis of population, Finland's war losses were ten times greater than those of the United States."

To this, I say, Amen!

Position Inconsistent

Nevertheless, it was necessary to point out to these senators that their just and fine action concerning Finland places most of them in an utterly inconsistent position. Certainly Fulbright, Saltonstall, Hatch, Thomas of Utah, O'Mahoney and Hill have no cause for excitement over Finland's payment of debts. They have generally regarded debts as beneath contempt. Why should any nation pay its debts? Why should not the comparatively small population of this country carry the entire human race on its shoulders?

They have generally favored forgiving debts, forgetting about them, increasing them, pouring large quantities of good money after bad money. They have supported the uneconomic and improvident British loan which did Great Britain good and the United States great harm by accelerating the inflation of prices especially of food products. Most of them are supporters of a quick and undebated Marshall plan which would export some $6,000,000,000 of wealth from this country to Europe annually without consideration for the welfare of this country with the use of irreplaceable raw materials, with stockpiling against a future war, with the prices of food on the American market?

True Finland met her obligations bravely, consisently and honestly. It is equally true that such honesty did not exactly pay off, for when Soviet Russia made war on Finland, the United States did not do much for her honest debtor and certainly, in time, we did more for the country that not only did not pay its debts but cancelled them. And when it came to settlements, the United States assisted in the partition of Finland, in so weakening that country that it has become one of Soviet Russia's captive states.

Smith Knows Finland

Senator Smith, who had been associated with Herbert Hoover in his many relief activities, knows the suffering and degradation of Finland and he is to be praised for bringing this issue to the public.

But Senator Smith should apply the same yardstick to all other countries who were willing to forget the contributions this country made to them during and after World War I and through lend-lease and other means during World War II and who default with the greatest of ease and then throw at us the lexicon of abuse and hate and, in effect, tell us to go to the devil for our pains.

He might, for instance, tell Panama off. In no uncertain language. For the republic of Panama would today have no existence were it not that Theodore Roosevelt brought it into being. Yet, Panama treats this country viciously. Obviously, if there were wisdom in Washington, steps could be taken to make Panama see season—instead, we cring before a weakling and imperil our defenses.

What is the use of praising both Finland and the defaulter and the ingrate at the same time.

Just a Minute

Girls! Want To Go To the End of the Line?

The Dallas transit company is hiring hostesses for its street cars.

There's a good opening for young ladies with a yen to travel . . . but not far.

No experience is necessary, but the job is a natural for airsick airline stewardesses.

The trolley-mollies will give comfort and counsel to passengers and, in time, may even serve coffee on the early morning runs. Meanwhile, it'll be a welcome change to have a soft, feminine voice implore: "Move to the rear of the car, please."

Incidentally, some knowledge of first aid is indicated . . . to give artificial respiration during rush hours and revive the occasional gentleman passenger who is thanked upon giving a lady his seat.

The work will appeal to those with a desire to see life and study people. For, with the possible exception of sharing an upper berth with a string quartet, one is closer to people in a street car than any place at all.

Long-Term ERP Investments

By Raymond Moley

IF, BY any chance, the practical advice of a man like B. M. Baruch should be entitled in setting up the ERP, he would point to a vital omission in the President's plan.

The billions involved are directed at three distinct problems, and in each case the probability of return is different. There will be grants of food, fuel and raw materials for Germany, Austria and possibly some other countries. These will never be repaid. They should be outright gifts. In a second classification of aid is that which goes to countries, like Greece and Turkey, whose capacity or willingness to make any return is negligible.

MOLEY

But grants for long-term reconstruction of productive facilities in countries like France and Italy can, if properly administered, be classed as fairly good investments in material economic terms. In fact, the whole test of the lasting value of the program will rest on what happens in these investments. And any practical American business man will see at once that the recipients of such grants should not be politicians, but the businessmen and concerns which in the past have built productive plants and facilities which have served the economic needs of these countries.

An excellent example of such an investment is a plan suggested in Europe to utilize the water power generated in the Alps through a plant built mutually by France, Italy and some of the Swiss cantons. Such an enterprise would nourish vast industrial activities in three nations. It involves competent engineering and a large outlay of capital. It should not be affected by political changes in the governments of the participating countries

Talent Is Available

There are in private life in these countries business managers, engineers and companies that could do this job. A grant for such a purpose should be made to some form of international private business organization, and that organization should sign the evidence of obligation. The governments involved might be co-guarantors, but the primary obligation should be the active agent.

For another example, in sending new textile machinery to western and central Europe, the representative firms in each country should subscribe the loan and plan its repayment in due course. A dozen other examples could be given.

Different Principle Involved

The administration of such lending at the American end should not be the same as in giving food or fuel to the needy or in lending to political governments. In the nature of things, the administration should not rest with a subordinate of the state department or a roving ambassador or a bureau in Washington staffed by the eager ex-employes of the OPA or UNRRA. It should not be a political friend of the administration. The repeated selection by the President of Edwin W. Pauley for big economic assignment abroad should give us pause.

If, as the President says, private lending from America should ultimately supplement the overloaded federal budget, the conditions under which long-term investments are made should be attractive to Americans. They cannot be attractive under the President's present plan. Anyone can give money away. Big investments upon which the future productivity of Europe depends should not be administered by a reincarnation of Harry Hopkins or Fiorello La Guardia, but by a proved success in private enterprise in the United States.

Population Center

Based on 1940 bureau of census figures, the new population center lies in the southern part of Jasper county, Ill. In 1940 it was located between Vincennes and Terre Haute, Ind.

Seems There's a Screw Loose

Diplomacy Needed in Greece

By Walter Lippmann

THE situation in Greece is obviously deteriorating in a way that will soon call for grave decisions. Though so much is hidden in a fog of propaganda, it seems to be reasonably clear that the proclamation of the Markos provisional government was made after the rebels had obtained de facto control of a small area in the mountains along the Albanian frontier.

In this area, it appears, the government forces are for the present unable to enter, perhaps in the main because the mountain passes are inaccessible in winter. This would seem to give the rebels a foothold on Greek territory where they are not, as they have been hitherto, merely guerrillas.

LIPPMANN

The full seriousness of this development is not, I think, to be measured by the military assistance which the Balkan nations are giving, or may from now on give, to the rebel government in the mountains. We have given the regular Greek army 74,000 tons of military equipment, and all the food for the whole Greek army of 100,000 men; it is altogether unlikely that the Yugoslavs and Bulgarians could have come anywhere near giving anything like the same amount of help to the rebels who are not believed to number more than 20,000.

It is even more unlikely that Belgrade and Moscow suppose that they can put more military equipment into Greece than we can, and that they have invented this rebel government to provide themselves with a legal pretext for engaging in such a competition.

The much more likely explanation is that the Markos government has been set up in order to provide a rallying point for the discontented and as a warning to the timid. For the present government, though nominally a freely elected government, quite plainly does not have genuine popular support.

Its sorry record in the civil war shows, that, and there are strong indications that some supporters of the government have begun to hedge, and to do business under ground with the rebels. Now that a rebel government has been proclaimed, they will have someone to do business with.

The danger in Greece is, therefore, not so much an invasion from the north as a collapse from within. That is why we are hearing demands for promises from Washington that we shall increase our financial aid and that we shall also send American troops, "to reassure the Greeks that they will not be deserted."

Review of Problem Needed

Before we send any troops, the whole Greek problem will have to be reviewed. For to put American troops ashore on the mainland of Greece is a military undertaking of which the consequences are incaculable. It is not like landing some marines in a backward country where there are no organized military forces to oppose them.

The advocates of military intervention in Greece say that two American divisions would suffice to stiffen the Greek government and to "seal the border." They are the same experts who said last year that $300,000,000 and 78 military advisers would suffice.

The fact is that if two divisions are put ashore in Greece, the whole military power of the United States will have to be committed to support them. If two divisions do not suffice, it will be necessary to send as many more divisions as are needed to accomplish the purpose for which the two divisions were sent.

Now we do not have many divisions ready for active service. If, therefore, we are to consider sending two divisions, the administration will have to go to Congress and ask for authority and money to activate a great many more divisions. For it would be in the highest degree imprudent to send a boy on a man's errand. If the situation demands American troops, then it demands at least a partial mobilization.

This will raise the question as to whether what is at stake on the Greek mainland is a vital interest, which must be supported at any cost, or whether what is at stake is prestige.

Place of Decision

The best military opinion would hold, I believe, that the contest for the control of the eastern Mediterreanean and the Middle East will not be decided on the Greek mainland. The real importance of the Greek mainland

Men and Symbols

THE Christmas Star was very wonderful
It lifted us up for a few hours...
But that is all over now—
Let us get back to the tangibles.

* * *

The Shepherds were simple men...
They could believe in a Star...
They could accept a voice, and obey...
They could follow a sign.

* * *

But we are smarter now...
We have made great progress...
Stars are for astronomers,
Painters, poets and story writers.

* * *

We have facts and statistics...
We have commission reports, blueprints,
Charts, maps, multiple graphs,
Filing cabinets, certified data...

* * *

Is guidance needed?...
Let us go to the records!...
Let us analyze the figures and trends
Let us study the correspondence!...

* * *

The shepherds believed in a voice:
"And this shall be a sign unto you..."
They listened and followed unquestioningly.
They found the right road...and the Man

* * *

But we are so much wiser...
We want a voice identical beyond doubt...
By case number and paragraph...
And in triplicate!

* * *

We have filing cabinets, briefs,
Catalogs, printed reports, verdicts...
What is a voice, or star,
Compared to the minutes of the last meeting

* * *

Is the night bleak and black?...
Are there great uncertainties?...
Call a conference!...Name delegates!...
Fly to far conference halls!

* * *

Are we at the crossroads?...
Prepare the national hookups!...
Let the newsreel cameras grind!...
Let us have oratory and good inflection.

* * *

Does the world totter in a great crisis?
Let us investigate and explore...
Let us study the charts and trends...
Let us look back through the resolutions!

* * *

The stars are for simple men...
We are smarter, wiser, better informed...
"Will the chairman call the roll?...
"Does the gentleman yield?"...

* * *

Away with stars and a Voice...
Let us go forward with the agenda!...
Forward with the graphs and data—
Down the path to destruction and oblivion!

Marionite Weds In Bellefontaine Church Ceremony

A NUPTIAL high mass in St. Patrick's Catholic church at Bellefontaine Saturday morning solemnized the marriage of Miss Mary Marcella Connelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Connelly of that city, and Stephen J. Byrnes of Marion. The pastor, Rev. Walter L. Makley, read the ceremony and was the celebrant of the mass at 9:30 o'clock. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edward J. Byrnes of 467 West Church street and the late Mr. Byrnes.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of matching lace trimmed with pearls. The dress had a fitted bodice accented with a drop yoke and the long fitted sleeves ended in points over the hands. The full skirt extended into a deep train. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, an heirloom in her family, and her wedding ring bouquet held white carnations and roses showered with ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Robert Connelly of Russell Point, a sister-in-law, was the matron of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Barbara Connelly of Indianapolis, was the maid of honor. They were identical gowns of American Beauty faille. The fitted bodices, made with peplums in front, had cap sleeves, sweetheart necklines and full skirts. Their gauntlet gloves matched the gowns in color and their matching headbands were trimmed with silver flower ornaments. They wore the bride's gifts of rhinestone necklaces and carried nosegays of shattered mums and carnations tied with silver ribbon.

Edward Byrnes of Marion, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man and ushers were Clarke Byrnes of Marion, also a brother of the bridegroom, and the bride's brother, Robert Connelly of Russell Point.

Mrs. Margaret Brooks presided at the organ and the mass was sung by Mrs. Robert O'Dea of Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Wagner of Lima, Robert Tynan and John Vicario of Bellefontaine. The music included the hymn, "When I Kneel Down to Pray" and "Ave Maria."

The wedding breakfast was at Hotel Ingalls following the ceremony and in the afternoon the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the hotel. For the breakfast the table was lighted with white tapers and held a four-tiered bridal cake. Completing the decorations were silver bowls filled with shattered mums. Guests were received from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The bride's mother was costumed in a gown in a blackberry shade with winter white hat and accessories, and the bridegroom's mother chose a brown costume. Both wore gardenia corsages. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Thomas Castor and Miss Jane Buckenroth of Columbus, Mrs. Bert Brugler, Miss Helen Ryan of Bellefontaine and Miss Joan Brophy of Dayton.

When the couple left on a wedding trip in the east the bride was wearing a fitted costume in a royal blue shade and a small, burgundy hat and accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at 139 East College avenue in Kent.

The bride was graduated from the Bellefontaine High school and Good Samaritan School of Nursing in Cincinnati. Prior to joining the surgical staff at Mary Rutan hospital in Bellefontaine recently she was on the staff of the pediatric department at the University of Illinois hospital in Chicago. The bridegroom was graduated from St. Mary Parochial High school Marion and served three and one half years in the Navy during World War II. He is a junior at Kent State university.

Battle Hymn of the Republic in 1948, all over again. It gives Americans a real choice between war and peace."

Marcantonio added that the American Labor Party, by supporting Wallace, would be acting consistently inasmuch as it had backed the late President Roosevelt and Wallace is the only candidate today who is adhering to the policies of President Roosevelt."

Americans for Democratic Action, the self-styled "liberal" political organization, called Wallace's announcement an "invitation to disaster." The group said that whatever Wallace's own intentions, it is now "indisputable" that "the Communists are the machine behind the third party."

Sees Element of "Danger"

While referring to the "danger" that a third party government might "divide progressives, create national confusion and insure the triumph of reactionary isolationism in 1948," the ADA said "we believe (that danger) can be overcome."

"We accept Wallace's challenge. The people will not be fooled," the ADA statement concluded. It was signed by Wilson W. Wyatt, former national housing administrator; Leon Henderson, ex-OPA chief; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis.

Senator Brooks (R-Ill) commented that it may be "a healthy thing" for Wallace to lead a third party.

"It will break the spell of the coalition that the late President Roosevelt formed when he pardoned (Earl) Browder and got him to dissolve the Communist party and wooed the American-Labor party in New York," Brooks declared. "If Wallace is successful in attracting the Communist and left wing support, perhaps the two major parties can return to the basic issues in America."

Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's political action committee, said in a statement it has been PAC policy "not to support a third party in 1948." He said the group's executive board will review the situation at a meeting here late in January.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) said Wallace can't count on union labor support.

Brown Sees Aid To G.O.P.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), chairman of the national Taft-for-President committee, said that while there never has been any question in his mind about a Republican victory in 1948 "the announcement by Mr. Wallace should make this result apparent to all."

Couple Exchange Marriage Vows In Trinity Church

MISS MAXINE HAWK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Hawk of Mt. Gilead, formerly of south of Marion, became the bride of Eugene Lehner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehner of south of Marion, in a candlelight ceremony read at 7:30 o'clock Christmas eve in the Trinity Lutheran church south of Marion. The aisle was lighted with tall white tapers and pews were marked with white satin ribbons. White gladioli in a large cathedral urn and palms decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony read by the pastor, Rev. Wilbur Budke.

The music preceding the ceremony was by Mrs. Robert Rice, organist, and Miss Alicia Zachman, vocalist. Mrs. Rice's numbers included "Together," "My God and I," "Always," "I Love You Truly," "Indian Love Call," "The End of a Perfect Day," and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Zachman sang "On Promise Me," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Because." At the close of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer." "Ave Maria" was played during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocaded satin, fashioned with a bouffant skirt, bateau neck, and a peplum extending from the waist into a long train. Her fingertip veil was held with a beaded coronet and she wore a single strand of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses with greenery.

Miss Nette Lou Dickason was the maid of honor and bridemaids were Miss Marjorie Kreis and Miss Martha Zachman. Candlelighters were Miss Donna Mae Millisor and Miss Naomi Rider. All wore gowns of pink brocaded satin fashioned identically like that of the bride, with peplums ending in a point half way down the skirt. They carried bouquets of lemon carnations combined with natural foliage. The flower girl, Ellen Faye Shellhorn, wore a gown like those of the attendants and carried a miniature bouquet similar to those of the attendants. The candlelighters wore corsages of lemon carnations with greenery.

Robert Buckley served as best man and ushers were Donald Almendinger, Donald Dutt, Charles David Mayers, and Lowell Hedges.

The bride's mother was costumed in an olive green dress, with black and winter white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with black and fuchsia accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

At the reception held in the church basement, the bride's table was laid with a white satin cloth and lighted with a tall pink tapers in double crystal candle holders. In the center was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing beneath an archway of orange blossoms.

Mrs. Lehner was graduated from Pleasant High school in 1947 and operates the accounts receivable machine at the Marion Power Shovel Co. Mr. Lehner, a graduate of Pleasant High school in 1946, is engaged in farming. The couple will reside in their newly furnished home south of Marion on the Lust road.

MRS. EUGENE LEHNER

At the rehearsal party Tuesday night at Greenwood Inn, the bride gave her maid of honor and bridesmaids gold bracelets with rhinestone sets. To her candlelighters she gave bracelets of moonstones encircled with rhinestones, and to the flower girl a tiny hand painted locket. Mr. Lehner gave his best man and ushers tie clasps. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a rhinestone bracelet.

Guests were present from Kirkpatrick, Powell, Chesterville, Columbus, Edison and Crestline.

On Monday evening the bride was complimented with a spinster party, and linen shower given by her sister, Mrs. James F. O'Brien. Contest awards were won by Mrs. Richard McCurdy and Miss Donna Mae Millisor.

METERS AID HOBBY

By The United Press

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—City Treasurer Harry Atkinson got fun out of taking money from parking meters. Besides providing revenue for the city, the meters made interesting additions to Atkinson's hobby—coin collecting. Atkinson has found coins from 15 foreign countries.

PRICES OF NEW YEAR CELEBRATIONS VARY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec 30—Get out those fancy duds, pick up that heavy wallet and take off—for Ohioans can salute 1948 any way they like and for as much or as little as they choose to spend tomorrow night

If the taste runs to fancy night clubs or hotel ballrooms, they'll naturally need more mazuma than for the smaller clubs, tavern or bars And there's always the midnight movie—the final resort

Those who visit the top night clubs and hotels will pay about $12 per person for entertainment and novelties plus dinner or breakfast. The middle price range touches $5 to $7 Many clubs advertise cover charges between $2 50 and $3, excluding meals

While large crowds are predicted throughout the state, some night club and tavern owners feel the peak may have been reached a year ago.

Enforcement Chief Donald Geyer of the state liquor department pointed out that while observance of closing hours is a duty of the local enforcement officers, the department would not condone violations of the law or liquor regulations.

Here is an idea of how prices range

At Cleveland, a sellout crowd was predicted for the Hotel Hollenden's Vogue room at $12 30 a couple Hotel Cleveland's Bronze room listed a cover charge of $10 a person but anticipated a smaller crowd than last year A good crowd was forecast for the Statler's Terrace room, also at $10 a copy, while the Continental Night club and restaurant expected a sellout crowd at $10 30 a person Cleveland's prices generally are the same as a year ago

The Netherland Plaza hotel and most Cincinnati spots expect capacity crowds, with prices from $12 at the Plaza to $5 and $6 cover at the smaller spots Increases of from $1 to $2 were noted Nearby Kentucky night clubs list $10 per person covers including dinners.

GROUP DISCUSSES STARS AT DELAWARE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Dec 30—The earth's milky way galaxy is populated by two distinct families of stars that display a remarkable snootiness but nevertheless get along without undue friction marring the beauty of the galaxy, the American Astronomical Society was told today

The astronomers shifted their annual meeting from Columbus to Perkins observatory at nearby Delaware for a panel discussion on family traits of the stars The observatory is operated jointly by Ohio State university and Ohio Wesleyan university.

Dr Walter Baade of Mount Wilson observatory, Pasadena, Calif, who carries the torch for those who believe the stars belong either to family No 1 or family No 2, led off the discussion. He reported that type 1 included such prominent stars as the sun, Vega, Sirius and the stars in the Pleiades cluster while type 2 included the red giant stars, such as betelgeuse, antares, and the cepheid variables of very long periods

DUST CLOUD REPORTED MARRING "MILKY WAY"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec 30—The milky way needs a good housecleaning to bring out its true beauty

Dr. A E. Whitford of the University of Wisconsin's Washburn university told the American Astronomical society today that dense dust clouds forming the "great rift" of the milky way now hide the central regions of the earth's galaxy of stars.

His report indicated that if these clouds could be swept aside the milky way would offer earth dwellers a spectacle brighter than anything now visible to the naked eye.

6 B-29 CREWMEN RESCUED IN ALASKA

By The Associated Press

NOME, ALASKA, Dec 30—Six of eight crewmen from a crashed B-29 were back to safety today through the heroism of two Alaska bush pilots, but five other men are still missing and feared dead in the frigid wastes of the Seward peninsula 95 miles north of Nome.

The bodies of two men, thought to be members of the three-man parachute team that leaped to the aid of the stricken fliers Saturday night, were believed to have been sighted less than 500 yards from the crash scene A driver and dog team will attempt to locate them today

An intensive search also will be continued for the pilot of the Superfortress, Lt Vern H Arnett, Santa Ana, Calif., and navigator, Lt Frederick I Sheetz, Keyser, W. Va

Neither has been seen since they set out together Christmas night, 48 hours after their big ship plowed into the side of a low hill They told fellow crewmen they would seek aid at the Eskimo village of Shishmaref, 50 miles to the north

The daring rescue was performed by Frank H Whaley of the Wien Alaska airline and William Munz of the Munz airline, both of Nome

Their aid was enlisted by the air forces after military rescue operations Saturday night and Sunday met with misfortune.

The driver of the dog team, Charles O'Leary flown into the crash scene yesterday in a Norseman plane piloted by Col R R Steward was ordered to remain at the disaster site and search for bodies of the medical aid trio Their names have not been released

Nome air base authorities said all six of the survivors were in good spirits and fair health despite spending nearly six days and nights in the sub-Arctic where temperatures hovered between 30 and 40 degrees below zero One of the men suffered a broken leg and another is being treated from a frozen face.

REDS RENEW DRIVE TO GAIN CAPITAL

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, Dec. 30—Guerrillas hurled new attacks today against Konitsa, and military authorities said the decisive battle for the city has been joined.

The guerrillas seek Konitsa as the capital for the Communist state newly proclaimed by their commander, Gen Markos Vafiades

The government garrison, weakened by the repeated assaults, withstood the new attacks and kept outer defenses intact after 24 hours of fighting, a government communique said Army reinforcements slogged toward the fighting zone

The defenders, using grenades, bayonets and knives, punched some holes in the guerrilla siege ring, and a trickle of supplies is getting through to the garrison, the military reports said Authorities in Athens said they are confident the rebel drive will be shattered soon

Meanwhile, Greek police seized the headquarters and records of the Communist party in Piraeus, Athens' port and placed the building under guard There were no arrests Legislation outlawing the Communist party in Greece became effective Sunday.

The military reports contradicted somewhat a rebel broadcast which said guerrilla forces had entered Konitsa—virtually isolated since Christmas.

TRUMAN SIGNS COPY OF LOST G.O.P. BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 30—President Truman today signed a duplicate copy of legislation designed to reduce the cost of living while secret service men sleuthed through the White House for the original

The President's signature was penned reluctantly at 9 15 a m after a hurried scramble to copy the Republican-sponsored measure, which disappeared mysteriously after reaching the White House

Declaring the nation's economy faces a "grave peril," Mr Truman said in a statement the bill is "pitifully inadequate' to deal effectively with the problem of high prices But he promised its "meager authority" will be used to the fullest extent

The copy was drafted hastily after an all-day search failed to turn up even a whereas or a subparagraph of the original It was flown by Army plane to Dedham, Mass., last night for the required signature of Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

Mr. Truman, who was ready to sign yesterday, planned to give his formal approval early today despite his contention the G O P. measure is a "feeble" gestute and a "pitifully inadequate" weapon to use against inflation.

The president's staff still had no explanation for what Press Secretary Charles G. Ross called "something of a White House mystery" The original bill, last seen on the desk of presidential counsel Clark M. Clifford Sunday evening, was lost without trace

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

DICKY threw the conversational switch with quickness and decision, and I knew that he recognized my reluctance to have Faith talk any more about the "hush hush" nature of my imminent journey.

"You haven't even asked me what I'm carrying so carefully," he said, indicating a small, covered and napkin-draped dish in his hands.

"Oh, oh!" my small daughter piped. "It's for you, Mummy, something nice to eat. I give you three guesses."

"But, I've had my dinner," I protested, prolonging the suspense for my small daughter's benefit, for I knew what must be inside the dish.

"That doesn't matter," she said serenely. "I asked Aunt Katharine about this, and she said the amount that was on the dish wouldn't hurt you. But it had to be small, 'cause there wasn't much—"

She clapped her hands over her mouth.

"You go on and guess," she said. "I'll be telling in another second."

"Ice cream?" I guessed promptly, and Faith shook her head.

"Pie?" I hazarded next, and again there was a shake of her head.

"Cake," I said, and she took her hands away from her mouth.

"I just about made it," she said in a tone that almost convulsed her father and me. Then she fairly jumped away from me, and over to Dicky.

"Please let me have it, quick," she said, "before I spill any dope about it. I want this to be a big s'prise."

She took the dish from him and brought it over to me. When she had set it carefully on the bed by my side, she whisked off the napkin, disclosing a small segment of the decorated pink pudding which, I knew, was the handiwork of Olga, exiled Queen of Transvania.

"Oh, how lovely!" I exclaimed, playing up. "This must be a piece of the small pudding Aunt Olga made you, the one exactly like the one she sent Granzie at the hospital, only smaller."

"Yes, this is it, and you never guessed," she said with a delighted wriggle. "Now eat it up, please, every bit, I'm sorry it isn't more, but it was a small pudding, and I made Daddy and Aunt Katharine and Cousin Mary take little bits and took this off for you, before I ate any myself."

Her tone was full of conscious virtue, but I humored her shamelessly.

"That was very sweet of you, darling," I said, "and I know I'm going to tnjoy every mouthful of this."

"If you don't, I'm just going to curl up and die," she told me, and I smiled at her encouragingly as I ate the dish of pudding, which despite my abundant dinner was so delicious that I did not need to stimulate enjoyment of it.

"You may go on living," I told her with a smile. "I enjoyed every bit of it. Thank you so much, darling, for bringing it to me."

"And on that note," Dicky said as Faith hugged me again, "I think we'll say good-night. We mustn't let Mummy get tired, you know."

Behind her back he held up the key, and pantomimed his return when Faith should be asleep.

"I guess that's right," she said dolefully. Then she brightened. "If I go cheerfully, so Mummy won't feel bad, will you read me two stories instead of one before I go to sleep?" she bargained.

"Sure thing," her father agreed, and in another minute my small daughter had given me her last devastating hug and loving kiss, and had been escorted from the room by her father.

I lay back on my pillows with the mingling of sadness and sweet recollection which a parting with a dearly-loved child always gives one, no matter how short the interval of absence may be, and had plenty of time to indulge my nostalgia, for Dicky, I knew, would not leave Faith until he was sure that she was safely asleep for the night.

When he finally came back, he looked down at me with a question in his eyes which he quickly put into words.

"Katharine has an idea that in order to insure against Faith's possibly overhearing anything, you ought to start from here. How about it?"

CITY ADMISSIONS TAX TOTALS $1,378

Auditor Shows Report on Income for November.

City admissions tax returns for November totaled $1,378.59, according to the records of Elmer Shaw, city auditor. This compares with $1,591.44 turned into the city treasury for October giving a total of $2,970.03 for the first two months the new tax has been in operation in Marion.

All licenses are renewable Jan. 1 at a fee of $1 as provided in the city ordinance, Mr. Shaw said. Licenses are available now for 1948 at his office in the Eagles building. Applications have been forwarded to all present license holders.

The new admissions tax set-up went into effect Oct. 1 supplanting the state levy. The admissions tax is levied on all forms of entertainment in the city where an admission price is charged, and it is anticipated to bring from $13,000 to $15,000 in revenue annually to the city.

The government has authorized a total of $89,116 to be paid Marion county farmers for their application of the approved practices during 1947. The county chairman said that: "In spite of some reduction in funds made by the past congress, we in Ohio are still in pretty good position for this year. We expect to meet all minimum payment pledges in full and hope also to be able to make some additional payment to those farmers who complete over and above the required units of approved conservation work."

This is based on the idea of taking the money that some few farmers fail to earn and distributing it in part to those farmers who carry out more than the required amount of work, Montgomery explained.

FALL SCENE IN DECEMBER. Extreme moisture last fall threw the Carl Morkrid farm near Petersburg, N. D., off its threshing schedule. Then snow buried bundles on a 36-acre flax field. Finally a threshing rig was set up and harvest hands burrowed through two feet of snow to retrieve the bundles. Here the threshing rig is in operation, adding to a mound of straw and chaff. The yield was about 500 bushels of good grade flax.

PRICES NEAR RECORD HIGH

Wholesale Figures on Commodities Expected To Top 1920 Crest in February.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 — Wholesale prices edged nearer today the all-time crest of May 1920, and government economists say they can find nothing to indicate that 1948 prices will stop there.

With the exception of some items which slowed down the food group at least temporarily, wholesale prices on 900 commodities studied by the bureau of labor statistics sailed unchecked past another postwar mark during the week ended Dec. 20.

An index figure of 162.5 was recorded for that date by the BLS, which uses average prices prevailing in 1926 as its 100, or normal wholesale level. In May 1920, the bureau says prices averaged 167.2 per cent of the 1926 average. Relating the index points to percentages, there is less than 3 per cent difference in prices today and those existing in May 1920.

New High Expected

At the present rate of climb, wholesale prices should topple the 1920 high about the end of February, the economists say—and keep on going in contrast to the experience 27 years ago. Then the index dropped from 167.2 to 96 in May, 1921, just one year later. It struck a bottom of 59.8 in February, 1933.

The statisticians say employment holding near the 60,000,000-mark and demand for goods of all kinds appear likely to sustain wholesale prices next spring.

They declare that "political pressures" on both the Truman administration and congress for a halt in the price trend may alter the picture, but they shy away from any opinions on the best approach.

The BLS consumers price index, described as representing actual cost of living to the householder, already has broken all records. It stood at a peak of about 165 per cent of the 1935-39 average on Nov. 15, the latest available computation.

Farm Products Higher

All farm products were up 0.4 per cent in the week, largely because of higher livestock quotations. And these, the bureau said, "were due to brisk buying for storage in anticipation of reduced supplies in 1948."

Average food prices declined 0.4 per cent with lower prices for meats, eggs, fats and oils. Pork and lamb were lower, but beef, veal and poultry advanced. The statisticians said this food drop will not last and will be offset by higher costs on seasonal foods later.

All items other than foods and farm products went up 1.3 per cent, led by sharp advances for crude petroleum and petroleum products.

OLYMPIC BOUND. With New York's transportation systems almost completely paralyzed by the city's greatest snowfall, Bill Irwin of Winnipeg, Canada, skied from his hotel to the pier where the S.S. Queen Mary was docked. Irwin, a member of the Canadian Olympic ski team, sailed for the winter Olympic games in Switzerland.

Five Marion Churches To Mark New Year

Five Marion churches have announced special watch night services and programs for New Year's eve, Wednesday, with three listing services of holy communion.

A congregational New Year eve observance of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church will begin at 8 o'clock, and from 11 to 12 a service of communion will be held. Young people of Epworth Methodist church will hold a special observance at "Our House," youth center, beginning at 8:30, with communion for worshipers individually served there in the Upper Room chapel any time between that hour and midnight. At First Evangelical United Brethren church there will be a service of communion at 11:30.

Nine o'clock will be the hour for a special New Year's eve service of Emmanuel Baptist church.

A watch night service of First Wesleyan Methodist church on Silver street at 9 o'clock will include prayer, singing, both congregational and special numbers, and testimony. The service will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. Eldon Martin, closing at midnight.

HOME NEAR ASHLEY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Roof Burned from Residence of Wayne McCurdy Family.

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Dec. 30—The farm home of Wayne McCurdy, four miles southeast of Ashley, was damaged Monday afternoon when the roof caught fire, apparently from sparks from the chimney. The entire roof was destroyed and contents in the upstairs of the home were damaged by water and the blaze. The Ashley fire department was called and firemen extinguished the blaze within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy were in Delaware at the time the fire broke out and arrived home as the fire was about out. Furniture had been carried out from the house by neighbors. No estimate on the loss was available today.

The fire was first seen on the east side of the roof by a neighbor, Miss Doris Kentner. She ran to the road and stopped a passing motorist, J. C. Piper of Ashley, who went to the nearby farm home of Clarence Wheeler, from where the alarm was turned in.

MILK PRICE RAISED

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 30 — Dairies here today announced a one-cent increase in the price of milk, starting Thursday. The new price will be 20 cents a quart. Dairymen said a milk shortage in the area, causing buyers to bid against each other, was responsible for the boost.

Gold and petroleum are the principal sources of mineral wealth in Colombia.

FIGHT COSTLY CLEVELAND FIRE. Handicapped by cold winds and ice, Cleveland firemen fight a five-alarm fire that swept through a tire company building, causing damage estimated at $200,000. Eighteen bowling alleys, located on the second story of the structure were destroyed.

The number of freight cars on U. S. railroads reached a peak of 2,348,679 in 1926, much of the decline to 1,762,210 in 1945 being due to increased capacity of individual cars.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

This is the second of three stories explaining the Marshall plan, what it is, how it started, what it's supposed to do.

• • •

WASHINGTON

HERE'S an explanation of the problem of the 16 European nations asking our help under the Marshall plan.

Thousands of experts have worked on the plan and the problem. Their work fills volumes. This is only a rough outline of what they say:

The Marshall plan, as finally announced by President Truman, would cost us about $17,000,000,000.

He wants it to work for four years, starting April 1, 1948, and ending June 30, 1952. He and the experts figure it's needed that long.

MARLOW

The idea is to pump help into Europe until it can get back to something like normal.

For example: We'd keep on giving Europe coal and steel until by 1952 it could produce enough coal, and maybe enough steel, for itself.

Not all the help would come from us, but most would. The rest would come from other countries in this hemisphere and elsewhere.

Besides coal and steel, those 16 countries need things like food, fertilizer, farm machinery, mining machinery, ships, dollars.

(They'd need dollars, for instance, to buy from other countries which wouldn't take their money but would accept American dollars.)

Probably most of our help would be an outright gift. Some would be in loans. How much would we get back? No one knows.

Those 16 countries have agreed, in order to get our help, to help themselves and one another.

They've agreed to step up their own output of things like coal and steel and farm machinery and food. They need our help to do it.

And they'll try to help themselves in such ways as lowering tariffs on the goods they import from one another.

THIS WOULD INCREASE their trade and make them more prosperous. As time went on they'd buy things from us and have more things to sell us.

But take a look at the problem:

Even in normal times those people in the 16 countries of western Europe couldn't grow enough food for themselves. They had to import some.

Now they're worse off than ever because of war and weather.

Last winter there was a freeze, last spring a disastrous dry spell. As a result of war there's a lack of farm machinery, farm animals, fertilizers, farm labor.

So they'll have to keep on getting food from us and other countries. They need farm machinery from us, and fertilizers.

With the machinery and fertilizers they hope to grow more food and so in time need less food from us and others.

But even by 1952, those 16 nations say, they don't expect to be eating as well as they did before the war.

SO MUCH FOR FOOD and farming. Now look at their industry.

Western Europe has a lot of industries but for more than 50 years those countries have had to rely on outside supplies for the raw materials their factories used.

Before the war they had enough coal and iron for their needs. But they were short of, or wholly lacked, other raw materials like cotton, wool, lumber, paper, rubber and oil. They had to import them. They still do.

By importing raw materials for their factories, they turned out finished goods which they sold abroad or to one another. In that way they made their exports pay for their imports.

They made money, too, by selling abroad special foods and drinks like cheeses, wines and liquors, and through shipping, investments abroad, and tourists.

DURING THE WAR they had to sell much of their investments abroad. So a lot of income from those investments is gone.

And in the war their ships were sunk, trucks and freight cars and factories and houses were smashed. Here's an example of what happened:

Before the war western Europe was able to get along on the coal produced by Britain, the Ruhr section of Germany, and Poland.

Now coal production in Britain and the Ruhr is away down. Britain hasn't been able to send Europe coal since the war ended. Poland isn't sending much.

Yet coal is part of Europe's backbone. It's an inter-locked backbone, with the various parts depending upon one another. For example:

If Europe can get more fertilizer and farm machinery it can grow more food. With more food, miners can turn out more coal. With more coal, more steel can be made.

More steel means Europe's factories can turn out more mine machinery to turn out more coal to make more steel. More steel, in turn, means more farm machinery to turn out more food, and so on.

is not strategic. It is political: having committed ourselves to the Greek government, its collapse would be a blow to our influence. We should have failed to do what we said very loudly we intended to do. It is to protect our prestige that military intervention is being proposed.

But there are other ways of protecting our prestige, and they should be tried before we increase our investment, and compound it by establishing a precarious military beachhead. The situation calls for diplomacy designed to extricate the United States from the position where its prestige is so dangerously involved with the fate of the Greek government.

By diplomacy I do not mean another public declaration, nor another public showdown in the United Nations, but diplomatic activity in all the important capitals of the world. We should ask for advice through diplomatic channels as to what the situation in Greece is and what should be done about it, having made it plain that we shall not retire from the eastern Mediterranean until the whole situation is stabilized.

We should invite the middle powers—countries like Canada, Brazil, Sweden—to make proposals. We should attempt to discuss the issues directly with Moscow and with Belgrade, and we should solicit the good offices of the Czechoslovak and Polish governments in reestablishing communications with the Soviet Union and with Yugoslavia.

We should not take a hard and fast position, asking everyone to line up with us or against us. We should insist that Greece is not an American problem as such but an international problem, and that we cannot solve it, and do not wish to solve it, unilaterally. We should reassert our desire for a settlement of the civil war, for the reconstruction of the Greek government, and for a Balkan peace settlement.

We should resume the practice of diplomacy, an art which has been almost forgotten since we were captured by the illusion that the rivalry of nations can be regulated by public pronouncements, from which as a matter of prestige no one can recede, and the collision of irresistible forces with immovable objects.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE life of an American politician is getting harder than an Army mattress.

His present plight reminds us of the oldie about the down at the heels vaudeville artist who applied to a booking agent for a job and was asked what he could do.

"I can fly," he said, and flapping both arms he took off from the stage. He zoomed up over the orchestra pit, landed gracefully on one foot on the top gallery rail. Then for five minutes he dive-bombed, roared, did loop the-loops, Immelman rolls and other aerial acrobatics, and finally glided gracefully back down to the stage.

Hal Boyle

The unimpressed agent looked coldly at the perspiring ham.

"What else can you do 'beside bird imitations?" he asked.

The present day politician is in about the same predicament as to the hopeful vaudeville trouper. He doesn't have to fly yet to remain in public office—but that day may be coming, too.

The latest complication in the once simple art of getting elected is television.

DAVID SARNOFF, president of the Radio Corporation of America, warns that with the spread of this new form of visual radio political candidates will have to pay new attention to their manner of dress, their personal appearance, their way of smiling and their gestures.

Television, he says, may do "more to revolutionize politics than sound broadcasting did."

The latest hurdle—forcing political candidates to learn how to become radio actors—makes public life so burdensome that it is hard to see why anybody now would run for an elective post unless ordered to by his draft board.

In the old days all a man needed to do to become a statesman was to arrange to be born in a log cabin, take a correspondence course in states' rights, kiss a few hundred babies, make a few long speeches in favor of religion and family life—and he was in.

ARMED WITH A well-thumbed copy of the Constitution, he then went to Washington. There he periodically denounced or praised the tariff, voted for the pork barrel projects affecting his constituents, and just before the next election mailed a few thoughtful packages of turnip seeds to the right people. That assured him a lifetime job and maybe a marble statue in the Capitol.

But look what happens today if plain citizen Josiah Elmo Bellow decides he wants to become a senator. He has to become an authority of international finance, taxation, social security, labor and industry. He has to know about parity payments for home-potato growers and how to get more coal out of the Ruhr.

The high school civics teacher ask him to explain the atom bomb to their students. The owner of the neighborhood Greek restaurant where he lunches wants to know how dangerous is Markos Vifiades, and poor old Mr. Bellow has to stall him until he checks aloud finds out that Markos Vifiades isn't the Latin name for trench mouth, but only a Greek guerilla somewhere north of Athens.

THE VOTERS STILL expect him to kiss all the babies, but they also count on him to protect them against all foreign "isms" and furthermore, to strike a firm blow against the boll weevil.

And now comes the terror of television and the chance he will be snowed under by women who decide, "I'm not going to vote for a man whose wife lets him wear a necktie like that."

It just isn't worth it, Mr. Bellow.

BRUSH-MOORE PLANS TELEVISION STATION

...cation for Permit Filed with FCC.

...by Brush-Moore News Service

...TON Dec 30—Application ...mission to construct and ...e a 24,000 watt television ... Canton is on file with ...eneral communications com... in Washington, it was ...ced yesterday by officials ...e Brush-Moore Newspapers

...present plans call for an ...or $200 000 for the new ...ne officials announced ...dded that they hope to have the station completed by 1949 in time for the presidential inauguration ceremonies if the FCC grants approval of the application before the coming summer.

The station would use the site of the new WHBC transmitter operated by the Ohio Broadcasting Co., a subsidiary.

The application lists the station's call letters as WBMT, which would stand for W (commission signal letter indicating station is east of the Mississippi river Brush-Moore Television.

To prepare the way for the application, Brush-Moore shareholders on Oct 10 approved an amendment to the articles of incorporation allowing the firm to engage in "radio, television, facsimile and other forms of broadcasting."

Officials explained that the application was made by Brush-Moore rather than the Ohio Broadcasting Co subsidiary, "because television represents a new and different medium of communication."

The station would broadcast on channel No 7 of the 13 allocated by the FCC for higher-powered commercial use The channel runs from 174 to 180 megacycles The 24 000 watt transmitter is expected to cover a 55-mile radius and would begin operations on a minimum of 28 hours. The application also calls for use of a mobile unit for remote control "telecasts."

The only commercial television station now in operation in Ohio is WEWS in Cleveland, which made its debut only last week.

REVIEW OF YEAR IN SPORTS
AUGUST

THE COLLEGE ALL-STARS DEFEATED THE CHICAGO BEARS 16 TO 0
FERVENT WON THE AMERICAN DERBY
IKE WILLIAMS KNOCKED OUT BOB MONTGOMERY IN THE SIXTH ROUND TO WIN THE WORLD LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE
HOOT MON WON THE HAMBLETONIAN, ANNUAL TROTTING CLASSIC

Alumni Preliminary Winners To Meet Varsity in Main Game

The lid lifts at 7 30 p m. tonight on an all-St. Mary cage event in Edison gymnasium when two alumni teams will battle in a preliminary game to see who will meet the Irish in the main tussle about an hour later.

Alums from the class of '43 and thereafter will meet the men of before '43 in the prelim and the winners will take on the St Mary regulars

Open House

After the games, an open house for St Mary alumni, sponsored by the St. Mary Booster's club, will be held at Columbian Hall.

Gene Fetter, coach of the Irish and chairman of the alumni night affair, said a galaxy of former St Mary greats would be in the lineup against his 1947 team

Among the outstanding alumni cagers set for the games tonight are Dan McGinnis, five-eight guard now playing for the Big Red of Denison, brother Bob, All-Ohio while at Denison and now attending Illinois but not out for basketball, Ray Murphy, Xavier, John Gray, Lycoming university, and Jim Lawler, Xavier

Several cagers currently setting a hot pace in independent loops in Marion will be on hand to bolster the alumni forces, including Bob Winterstaller, Tom Moran, and Bob Pruzzo, all playing in the Y. M C A. Monday night league and for the Marion Angels

In addition, the graduates have Bill Moloney, Ohio State; Jim Daum, Xavier, John Wilmes, John Carroll, Jack McAndrew, Ohio Northern; Ray Murphy, Xavier; George Shoup, Don Moran, Frank Terzo, Steve Norris, Bob Tobin, Pat Bray and Larry Lesel.

Irish Lineup

Coach Gene Fetter contemplates one change in the lineup of the current edition of the Irish—Jim Moloney for Dick Drake at center High scoring Dick Schuler and John Baldauf will repeat as forwards and Bob Stuber and Dan Smith will start at the guard posts

Other Irish figuring to help the youngsters show up their predecessors are Ed Moloney, Bill Mercnant, and Corky Cusick.

The Irish season record stands at five victories and two losses. Bucyrus and Ashley fives took their measure but Lima St. Gerard, Columbus Holy Family, Richwood, Columbus St. Mary and Columbus Holy Family all took the count.

Tears Stream Down Face As Fans Honor Mr. Football Stagg

By International News Service

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30—A parade of sports champions—past present—marched across the dais, bowed and made little speeches last night, but the oldest of them all evoked the greatest acclaim

It was "Mr. Football" himself—Amos Alonzo Stagg

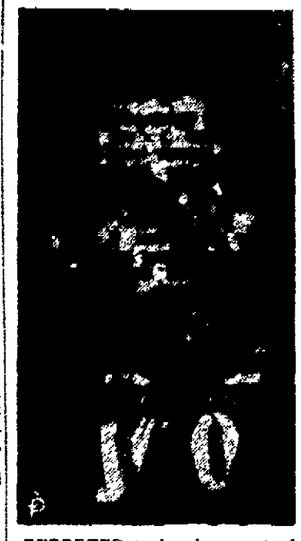
The crowd of 1,200 that attended the fifth annual Los Angeles Times' National Sports Award dinner climbed from their seats and cheered for five minutes while the "Grand Old Man," with tears streaming down his face, humbly accepted the plaudits.

Mr Stagg, at 85 the dean of America football coaches, winked solemnly to a gent sitting at his left whom he coached many decades ago.

The man was Herbert (Fritz) Crisler, present mentor of the University of Michigan Wolverines, who only moments before had been named "the coach of the year"

Comedian Bob Hope was master of ceremonies at the affair which saw awards given to these champions:

Joe DiMaggio, baseball; Frank Lubin and Gerald Tucker, basketball, Jack Dempsey, boxing; Johnny Lujack, Orban Sanders and Riley Matheson, football; Bobby Locke and Babe Didrikson Zaharias, golf; Johnny Longden, horse racing; Maurice Richard, ice hockey; James McClane and Ann Curtis, swimming; Jack Kramer and Louise Brough, tennis; Mel Patton, track and field; and special awards to Bill Kelly, manager of the Los Angeles Angels baseball team, Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Alex Kerr, skeet shooting king.



REPORTED to be the agent of two St Louis millionaires, George F. Kinkead, Louisville, Ky, businessman, is shown as he told reporters of a possible deal for the purchase of the St. Louis Browns and their baseball farm holdings.

HOCKEY TEAM FACES ANOTHER HAZARD

State Dept. Refuses Passport To Olympic Player.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Dec. 30 — Amateur Hockey association's Olympic team has run into another hazard.

The state department yesterday refused to issue a passport to the first player who applied until approval had been given by the U. S Olympic committee which has ruled the A.A U. instead of of the A.H A should select the American sextet.

A H A Vice President Walter Brown, asserting that such approval was unnecessary, immediately wired U. S Senator Leverett Saltonstall asking him to intervene with the state department.

Jack Riley, former Dartmouth captain and a naval flier in World War II, was the athlete rebuffed. He reported to Johnny Garrison former Harvard star and 1936 U. S. Olympic hockey player who is coaching the A.H.A. sponsored team

Garrison had instructed the members of the squad to apply individually for their passports The team has booked passage on the Queen Mary, is due to sail to Europe Jan. 9. The Olympic hockey games are scheduled for the last week in January.

BOUDREAU ADMITS SHIFT NO GOOD

Williams Sends "Cute" Ones Down 3rd Base Line.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec 30—Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians admitted today any defensive shift to halt Boston's Ted Williams now is useless and that the Red Sox slugger "ought to be a hitting champion for a few years to come."

Boudreau, who originated a defense against Williams in 1946 by concentrating fielders on the right side of the diamond, lauded Williams for being "cute" enough to "hit a few soft ones down the third base line."

That ended the usefulness of the Boudreau shift, Lou said, and he added that rivals will have trouble "getting Ted's goat from now on."

As for proposals to abolish the intentional walk, Boudreau said he was dead set against any such innovation.

Boudreau said it was "quite obvious" that the pennant fight in the American league would be between the defending champion Yankees and the remodeled Boston Red Sox.

Boudreau said his Cleveland Indians would "really have to bear down" at the outset in spring training, pointing out that the Tribe's exhibition schedule opens only six days after the club starts practice on March 1.

Boudreau was here as a member of a special committee judging baseball action pictures for a prize to be awarded at the annual diamond dinner of the Chicago Baseball Writers Jan. 18 The committee also included Bob Feller.

Syndicate's Bid for Detroit Lions At Stalemate; Try for Spot in Rival A.A.C.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Dec 30—The door appeared open today for entry of a second professional football team into Detroit, but whether it would stay open long depended on owner Fred Mandel of the National league Detroit Lions and a group of local businessmen.

The businessmen, recently incorporated as the Detroit Football Co., began negotiations for a spot in the rival All America conference after a conference aimed at the sale of Mandel's Lions broke up yesterday on a note of utter financial discord.

Briefly, in the words of both sides, the story was "we're too far apart."

Lyle Fife, spokesman for the syndicate, began trying to contact Admiral Jonas Ingram, commissioner of the All America conference.

Ingram, speaking from Coronado, Calif., had only this to say, publicly:

"Sorry, but I can't give out a thing because I don't know anything to go on now"

Fife, nowever, told the press that "you may assume" that the syndicate would seek to sponsor an America conference football team here.

Chappuis Injures Leg As Wolverines Head Into Final Pre-Bowl Practices

By The Associated Press

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 30 — Whether a leg injury will prevent Michigan's All-America pass perfectionist Bob Chappuis from leading his mates into the Rose Bowl game against Southern California Jan. 1 was a possibility today though Coach Fritz Crisler did not appear unduly concerned.

Late last night, Crisler said the injury had not been fully checked but added that "he didn't believe" it was serious.

The Michigan trainer, Jim Hunt, described the injury as "a muscle tear with some internal bleeding" which should be negligible in view of the prompt treatment it received.

The handsome, black-haired tailback from Toledo, who this year tossed and ran his way to within 20 yards of the 1,039 yard Western Conference record he set himself in 1946, torse a thigh muscle here midway in yesterday's practice at Brookside park.

Whatever the result, Crisler, whose Western Conference champs are rated a slightly better than two-touchdown favorite over the U.S.C. Trojans, is well heeled in the tailback department.

In the event Chappuis is sidelined for the New Year's Day classic, Crisler said his duties will be assumed by Gene Derricotte, the 175 pound Negro flash from Defiance, O., and Walt Teninga, a 188 pound utility back fielder from Chicago

While the outcome of Chappuis' injury was awaited, Crisler scheduled the final two practices for his 44-man squad in the Rose Bowl itself.

Today and tomorrow the Wolverines will hold light drills in the famous 80,000-capacity bowl, while Jeff Cravath's Trojans will continue their exercises at their Santa Barbara headquarters until the day of the game itself

Both coaches kept an apprehensive eye on the weather report which currently called for possible showers New Year's Day.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 — A bunch of the guys were sitting around discussing last Friday's knockout pro tennis match when some one remarked: "Bobby Riggs has had the advantage of playing against first class opposition in every one of those 100 matches against Don Budge I think he's a vastly underrated player."

That may sum up the whole situation and bear out this department's contention that a tennis pro should have the advantage over the newly-converted amateur regardless of previous records.

The pros, of course, don't have the competitive edge that comes from battling for a title in every tournament On the other hand, the amateurs knock off a lot of pushovers and then run into real opposition only in the last couple of rounds It stands to reason that the guy who has to meet a champion in every match should have the edge over the one who faces real tough opposition maybe once a week But our dough will be on Kramer once Big Jake really finds the range he's that much better than the men he's been playing.

VADAL PETERSON, coach of Utah's national champion basketball team, says "Everybody is mad at us this year; we have run into six different types of defenses so far and some aren't even in the book."

Ox-carts are still used in the Cuban sugar cane fields.

FAST BEE GEES ROUT WESTERN KENTUCKY

Xavier Takes Ball State, Akron Defeats Connecticut.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, Dec 30—Bowling Green's fast-breaking Falcons moved a step closer to the front of the national collegiate basketball parade today following a convincing 75-64 rout of previously unbeaten Western Kentucky.

The Bee-Gee's triumph featured action last night which found Ohio collegians sweeping three games with out-of-state rivals. Xavier poured it on the undefeated Ball State of Indiana, 55-39, and Akron handed invading Connecticut its second loss, 60-48.

Tonight, Toledo's undefeated Rockets try for their ninth straight in a game with Cornell in the Glass City and Connecticut attempts to snap Western Reserve's six-game winning streak at Cleveland.

Western Kentucky was slight favorite over Bowling Green, but the home town team jumped to a 14-5 lead, was tied momentarily at 16-all and then moved ahead to stay as sub guard Gene Dudley scored 10 straight points as end man on a fast break

It was the first loss for the Kentuckians, who feature the same starting lineup that advanced to the National Invitational Tourney quarter-finals in 1942 before losing to West Virginia's eventual champions.

Charles Share, six foot 10 inch center, was high man for the Bee-Gees with 16 points, but Otis Sears of Western Kentucky carried off game honors with 19 points.

Xavier had little trouble registering its sixth win in eight outings Ball State never caught up after Howie Schueller and Mal McMullen banged in 16 points between them in the last 10 minutes of the first half to give the host Musketeers a 29-13 margin at intermission time Schueller was tops for the night with 17 points.

RECOGNIZE WALCOTT AS TITLE CONTENDER

N.B.A. Picks Challenger for 1st Time in 2 Years.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 — For the first time in almost two years the National Boxing Association recognizes a logical contender for the heavyweight championship held by Joe Louis.

In its quarterly ratings released last night, the N.B.A. threw the mantle of "No 1 threat" about the shoulders of Jersey Joe Walcott, the veteran who floored the champion twice before dropping a split decision early this month.

The N.B.A. listed four other heavies in the honorable mention class—Ollie Tandberg, Elmer Ray, Joe Baksi and Joe Maxim.

The association named Rinty Monaghan of Eire as its flyweight champion This was the first move in this class since the British board of control took away and later restored title recognition to Jackie Paterson of Scotland.

Abe Greene, N.B.A. president, warned champions to be more regular in defending their titles He cited particularly featherweight champion Willie Pep, who he said was "long overdue for a title defense."

Greene also declared the winner of the bout between light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich and Billy Fox must meet the victor of next month's Cleveland bout between Ezzard Charles and Archie Moore "within a reasonable time."

Miami To Use Oxygen In Sun Bowl Game

By The Associated Press

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 30 — Miami university's gridsters take their third workout here today in preparation for the New Year's Day Sun Bowl game against Texas Tech of Lubbock, Tex.

Meanwhile Texas Tech planned a second stiff workout on their home field before leaving for El Paso early Wednesday. The Techsans will have only one workout on the Sun Bowl field before the New Year game.

Coach Sid Gillman said his Miami squad has been bothered by El Paso's 3,700 foot altitude—about 2,000 feet higher than their Oxford, O., home base. The Ohioans will be given oxygen before and during the game to remedy this, he reported.

Three Miami players were missing at practice yesterday. Tommy Cole, a back, had a recurrence of a knee injury, and Dick Plaisted and David Putta, reserve guards, had minor stomach upsets. Gillman said the injury may keep Cole out of the game.

TRIAL DATES SET FOR MARION MEN

Three Face Charges in Crawford County Court Jan. 28-29.

Three Marion men indicted by a Crawford county grand jury in October on charges arising out of strike activity at Galion have been scheduled for trial Jan. 28-29 in Crawford county common pleas court.

The men, Richard C. Gibson, 28, of 392 Owens street; James A. Wilson, 29, of 361 Clinton street and Walter E. Foust, 30, of near Marion, were indicted Oct. 29, on five separate counts. The five bills returned by the grand jury charged assault and battery, assault, kidnaping, use of a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and grand larceny.

Arraigned Nov. 4 all pleaded not guilty and were placed under aggregate bond of $3,400 on the five charges. The men are represented by Attorney Thomas Fetter.

Charges arose out of the alleged "kidnaping" of two North Electric Co. employes and taking a company truck away from them during the Oct. 22 flare-up at the plant, strike-bound for 75 days by the UAW-CIO. The Marion men are union members but not employed at the Galion plant.
